Course Description

- An entry-level research experience; students gain first-hand familiarity conducting psychological research; the scope of the work will vary, but will involve active participation with ongoing research.
- This course is graded as Pass/Fail.
- Note this course requires students to identify a faculty mentor willing to supervise their research experience prior to completing this form.

Prerequisites:

- Minimum of 9 credits (includes all courses)
- Completion of PSYO 111 or PSYO 121
- Permission of the department head and a faculty member prepared to supervise the experience

Attach a course syllabus that includes:

- a course description;
- expectations for the research experience;
- evaluation and deadlines (list each component as a percentage of the final grade);
- number of student-instructor contact hours per week, and the number of hours the student is expected to work independently per week (these should total 3 hours per week per credit hour);
- where applicable, define the roles of the supervisor and co-supervisor
